

I do not want the no call list to be weakened. I do not appreciate telemarketers calling my house at all hours of the night and day. Since signing up for the no call list I have enjoyed sitting down to a family dinner with no interruptions. Sure, I don't have to answer but the point is they don't stop calling. I have been awakened at 8am on a Saturday morning to "you have just won!" Yeah, right. In the fine print I have to spend $2000. If I want to buy something or participate in something I will contact whomever on my time not theirs.
